CUTLASS
1974

This book belongs to:

The '74 Cutlass has been put together this year with the basic goal of portraying glimpses of the many diverse happenings at Jesuit High. This year marks our tenth anniversary. 1974 has epitomized the growth, both physical and spiritual, that we have undergone in these last ten years; this annual, we hope, epitomizes 1974.

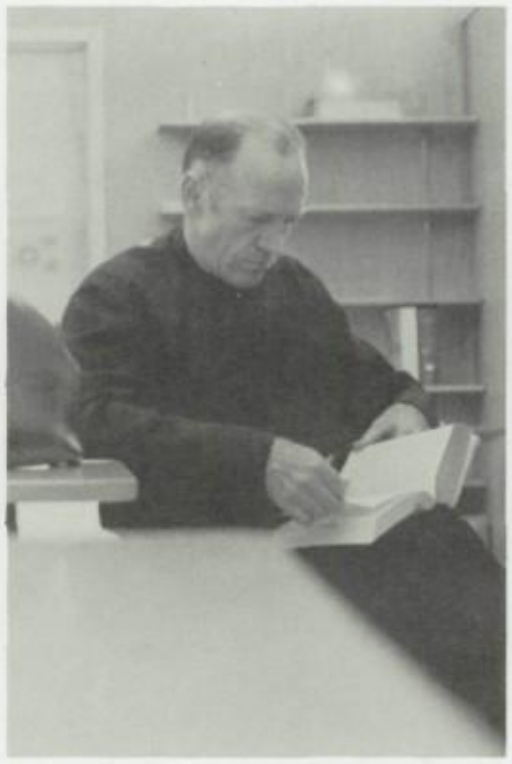
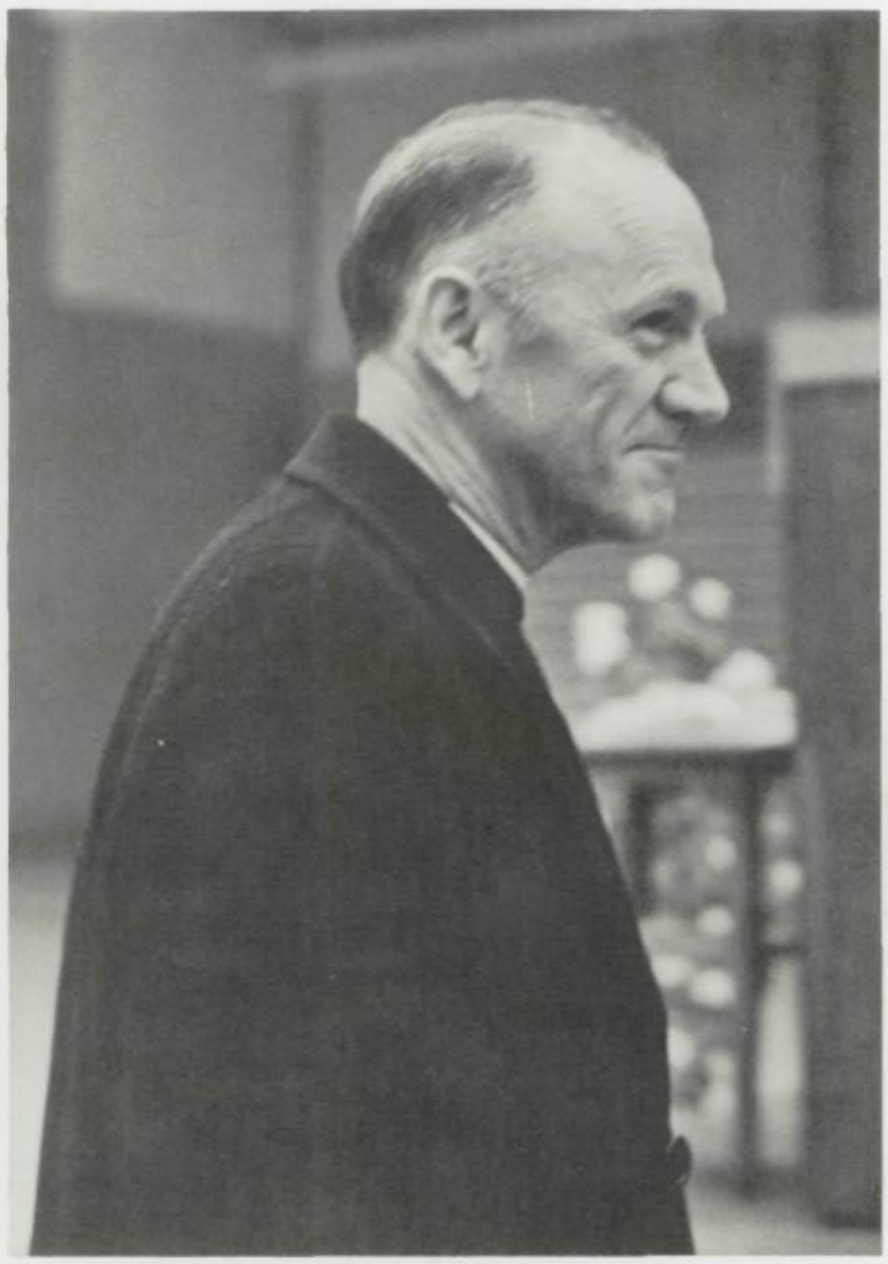
A TRIBUTE



"Sanctity exists less in unusual dramatic actions than in the practice of fidelity to God in day to day living."

St. John Berchmans
1599-1621



John Berchmans, a young Jesuit scholastic who lived from 1599-1621, used as his spiritual guide a very simple doctrine, which, summed up, says: "Do all the ordinary things, but do them well." Although only a Jesuit for a short while, he left a lasting mark on the Society of Jesus and the Church as well, by his devoted adherance to this principle. He was canonized as a saint in 1888.

Because of its nature, this principle of devoted service usually doesn't bring its followers much recognition. However, Jesuit High has been gifted with such an outstanding example of this type of dedicated service that we think it should not go unrecognized. Therefore, the 1974 Cutlass Staff would like to dedicate this edition to a man who, by his selfless and uncompromising dedication, has distinguished himself as a model of Berchmans' ideal—Fr. George L. Crain, S.J.

Fr. Crain's life as a Jesuit began on July 30, 1938 when he entered Sacred Heart Novitiate in Los Gatos, California, under Fr. Joseph King, S.J., who was then Master of Novices. His training took him to Spokane, Washington (philosophy), Bellarmine Prep in San Jose (regency), and then to Alma College for theology. Soon after his ordination in 1951, Fr. Crain was sent to Rome as secretary to the General of the Society of Jesus. He later returned to Los Gatos to teach at the Novitiate. Father's next assignment was at Ryan Preparatory Seminary in Fresno where he taught English and Latin and also coached basketball. In the fall of 1969 he arrived at Jesuit and has been teaching Latin here ever since.

Fr. Crain's many varied interests include: fishing, sports, drama, and Latin. He is constantly researching and improving his teaching technique and has traveled long distances to confer with someone who might offer new ideas which he would incorporate into his teaching method. This untiring dedication has won him the profound respect of his many students over the years.

So it is that the Cutlass Staff dedicates the 1974 edition of the yearbook to the man who best exemplifies St. John Berchmans' ideal of unswerving dedication—Fr. George L. Crain, S.J.

Revertus Froshus

One of the earliest proto-apes, Froshus resembled the chimpanzee, although the Froshus was in a greater state of confusion. He was well suited for swinging from the balcony. On the basis of his proportionately tiny skull and awkward appearance, he is now classed as an ancestor from the chimpanzee line.

This year Big Red continued its fine football tradition with a 5-4-1 record. Included in this record was a drubbing of playoff-bound Norte Del Rio and a tie with number one rated C. B. S. The team had its setbacks but always fought back charged with their undying spirit. The team was hurt by the loss of running back Pat McCormick. However, the running trio of Dan Barrett, Carlton Adams, and Steve Wright, behind an offensive line anchored by All League Center Paul Sweigert and helped by Dave Catricala and Dave Michelmore, gave Jesuit a fine running game, while Q.B. John Turnacliff gave Jesuit strength in the air. Steve Schurman led the corps of receivers which included Dan Ford, Dave Matthews and Tim Melanson. This year's defense was by far one of the best in the city. Led by All Leaguers: Dave Leatherby, Gary Prentice, Steve Wright, Tim Lee, Mike McKinnon, Dan Barrett, Tim Melanson, and greatly helped by Bob Geremia, Pat Cummings, Matt Bouza, and Paul Reilly, the Jesuit Defense weekly crushed offenses. This awesome defense held one of the city's premier rushers to a meager 28 yards. In the season finale, the defense blanked the potent C.B.S. attack for the second consecutive year.

Coaches Sevieri, Warren, and Mooney should be congratulated for this team's fine performance and the undying and unified spirit displayed by this team on and off the field.

1973 was a season of ups and downs for Coaches Meyers and Reid and our J.V. football team. The team was one of the youngest J.V. teams in Jesuit's history, for one-third of its starters were freshman. The season record was 3-7, but five of these losses came against teams who were champions of their respective leagues. The Junior marauders were led by sophomores Brian Barrett, Ralph Palumbo, Pat Barclay, Pat Roach, and Joe Potulny. All of whom played both offence and defence. Dan Schnieder, Glen Mitchelmore, Bob Ridenhour, Joe Rhiel, and Guy Coe were the leaders of the many outstanding freshmen that made this years team. The experience gained by these freshmen should insure a successful J.V. season next year. The team chose Pat Barclay and Pat Roach as their captains and presented Joe Potulny the Most Inspirational Player Trophy. Brian Barrett received the Most Valuable Player Award.

The season was one of disappointment for Little Red. The team finished with a 1-6 record, but that is misleading. Injuries, an exceptionally tough schedule, and the loss of some key players to the J.V.'s were the stumbling blocks Little Red faced this year. The season was not one of total frustration, as Little Red shut-out El Dorado 6-0. Outstanding on defense were linebackers Brett Felix, Mark Ghilarducci, Tim Wilson, tackle Eric Meissner, noseman Dennis Sullivan and safety Ken Palumbo. The offense was lead by Q.B. Phil Cantelme, tackle Brian Fahey, tight end Chris Ford, splitend Mark Lucas and running back John Johnson. Voted M.I.P. and M.V.P. were Ken Rossitto and Brett Felix respectively. Excellent coaching was provided by Mike Bowles and Tim Warren.

Cross Country: Third Straight GEL Title

The 1973 Jesuit Varsity Cross Country team was the finest in Maruader history. In its dual meet opener the team trounced Rio Americano 17-46, with Jesuit's 7th man finishing far ahead of the Raider's 2nd man. The following week Big Red tried Highlands and beat San Juan and Elk Grove in a four-way affair. With this meet it became apparent that Jesuit would be one of the section's powers, since Highlands was an early-season pick to win the section.

October, the month of the big invitationals, saw Jesuit finish 3rd at the Pleasant Hill Invitational. Jesuit lost only to two teams from the San-Joaquin section, beating all others in the large school division.

In November, the Varsity won its third GEL title in a row, followed that with a 2nd at the Sub-sections, and finished 5th in the Section finals. In the finals, Jesuit missed third by a mere 3 points. A real measure of the team's ability is the fact that six of the Varsity runners had broken ten minutes for two miles on the track. Varsity leadership was provided by Dick Read, who received the Most Improved award, and Dirk Feenstra, who received the Most Valuable Varsity Runner.

The Jesuit Frosh Cross Country team won its third league title in a row, and finished 7th in the section finals for the second straight year. This fine team was led by Pete Gaul, Most Valuable, and Tom O'Neil, Most Improved. Gaul ran an outstanding 10:31 two mile on the track, making him one of the best freshmen in Jesuit Cross Country history.

Christmas Food Drive

Once again, Jesuit was the largest single contributer to the annual Del Paso-Robles Neighborhood Council Christmas Food Program. This Year's drive was piloted by Mr. Bob Fambrini, who was assisted by Senior Steve Schurman. This year's drive netted over eight thousand pounds of canned and dried foods and over four hundred dollars in cash. A total of seven hundred baskets were filled and distributed to three thousand persons.

GRADUATES

JESUIT HIGH SCHOOL

P. O. BOX 4647, SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA 95825

Dear Graduates:

Last summer, one of the 1973 graduates told me that he was all set for college. "I'm going to become a lawyer so I can really make money." He didn't say that he was getting a head start on the pursuit of an unreachable star, that he planned to make the world better, that he hoped college would waken the full human potential sleeping inside his young self, that he was beginning the next phase of the journey into the Infinite.

A man can be a lawyer only part of his life. What does he do about his life outside of his career—marriage, parenthood, friends, sickness, health, recreation, death, taxes, morality, God, etc.? Life is so enormous; why narrow down college to career catching?

Money helps acquire material necessities, conveniences, and pleasures; but what about peace of mind, honesty, compassion, happiness, courage, sound judgement, love and affection, kindness, temperance, maturity? Shouldn't college be about these important aspects of life as well?

Politics in 1973 slammed into us with somber news of adult delinquents, who acquired the career but failed to become whole men. What does the vice-presidency mean to Spiro Agnew now?

Many, not all, or our national heroes are the same sort of human loser, lacking those common human virtues that we expect in quality human beings—honesty, moral courage, temperance, chastity, justice, a sense of personal honor and integrity, etc. We applaud them and pay them enormous sums because they play well on the guitar or the gridiron, they flash celebrity—white teeth from T.V. or movie screen, they win in criminal courts or at the Olympics. If our heroes excel in their narrow function, we no longer care whether they excel as human beings or not.

If you are lucky, your country will take the warning implied in Watergate and the whole crisis of the Nixon administration: Americans are not safe in the hands of men whose career and income have priority over the quality of their lives.

Many Americans are revolted by the eight beatitudes; you could start a revolution there. "Blessed are those who hunger and thirst to see right prevail." That's quality!

Christ's idea of greatness is revolting to Americans too: "Anyone who aspires to greatness must serve the rest."

Matthew 16 contains another revolting passage: "What will a man gain by winning the whole world at the cost of his true self?" I refer you to the New Testament for further suggestions about college and revolution.

The second question to ask yourself before college concerns career, What do I want to do?

The first question concerns you whole self, Who do I want to be?

Sincerely yours,

Father Schoeppe

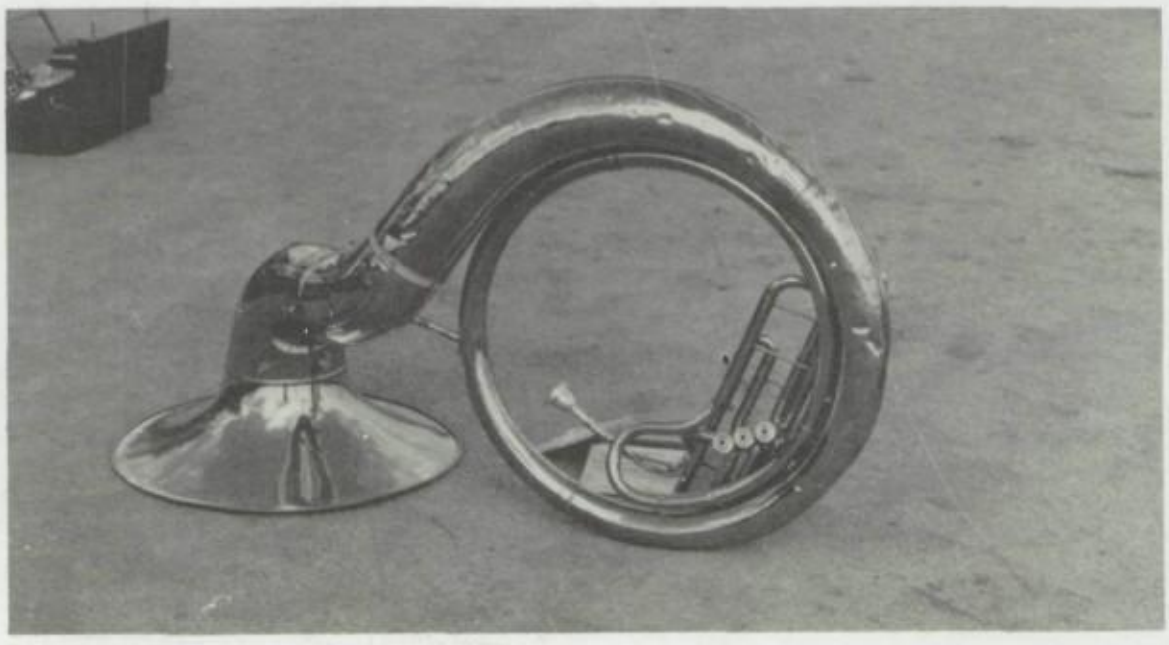
Ringo Flanders hits the skins

Everyone plays their saxes as Linsteadt puffs on his waterpipe.



After three years of striving for acceptance and musical excellence the Jesuit High school Band is beginning to show steady improvement towards a quality organization. This year has seen the band play more than ever including the historic march out onto the football field and the Brass Choir performance at Christmas Tree Lane.

A pride has been established not only in the band members themselves, but it is also surfacing in the rest of the school community as well. The Band thanks everyone concerned for their past and continued support and the Music Department looks forward to a promising future.

Awesome

The 1973-74 Varsity Basketball team was possibly the best in Jesuit history. Rick Michelmore and Mike Lien led a devastating team which averaged 70 points a game offensively, while allowing a stingy 43.

The experience of the seniors, the depth provided by the impressive juniors and the coaching of Len Stevens resulted in a Golden Empire league title and the championship of the Keema classic.

Rick Michelmore had a third year of excellence in a varsity uniform, averaging 17 points, 11 rebounds, and 4 steals per game, while Mike Lien collected 15 points and 12 rebounds. Guard Ed Sullivan consistently netted double figures as did Matt Guthrie, who was outstanding on defense. Dave Scheid, another defensive ace rounded out a starting five which will not be forgotten by the fans and opponents of Big Red for a long, long time.

From the very beginning, numerous injuries mapped out a tough road for coach Manny Tequita and the J.V.'s. The Sophs dropped their first five decisions to Junior teams. The disciplined Marauders, however, came back hard winning 13 of their next 16 encounters ending the season with an eleven game winning streak. Their 9-1 league record netted them the G.E.L. crown. Leading in scoring were Bill Bredy and Garth Davey, who also dominated the boards. Mike Miller and John Hancock were central in the J.V.'s success with frequent bursts of scoring, and consistent fine play. Guards Matt Murphy and Joe Potulny controlled the Marauder offense leading the team in assists. Coming off the bench were Steve Archer, Paul Yarletz, Dan Schurman, Jerry Anderson, and Ralph Palumbo — all five were key to this season's success. Much credit is due to Coach Tequita for his hard but successful task of turning the early season losers into a championship team.

The Jesuit wrestlers headed by Coaches Frank Mooney and Clyde Lehman, completed a fine 1974 season. Although plagued with injuried and with a glaring need for heavyweight wrestlers, the team grappled its way to a fourth place spot in league. The truly outstanding aspects of this years team were the performances by the team captains Paul Rossitto, Steve Saulque, and Mike Ross. Paul Rossitto took second place in league at 145 lbs, and fought his way on to a third place spot in the section championships, qualifying him for the state finals. Paul is the first Jesuit athlete to compete on a state level. Steve Saulque, Jesuit's league champion at 115 lbs, qualified for the section finals. Mike Ross took second place in league at 127 lbs. Also outstanding was Bob Fox who was third in league at 103 lbs.

Jesuit's J.V. team finished fourth in league as a team. Guy Coe and John Karrer both showed promise for the future by taking second in league.

This year, the Jesuit soccer team transcended it's role as merely a club, and took on the dimensions of a major sport. It's new prestige was evidenced both in the numbers who participated and in the increasing enthusiasm and loyality of the fans. Standouts Bob Schubert, Brian Sills, Mark Reedy, Kevin Fisher, Ralph Isola along with Jim Drury, Danny Adams, Mark Gillespie and Steve Rice sparked the potent offense. The defense featured the wizardry of Hank Steenkolk, Pat Gannon, Vince Klaas, Jim Bruce, Greg Stephens, Kevin Christian and John Barrett. Mike Schubert and Bill McSweeney proved to be able goalies. Misters Montalvo, Dias, and Kotlanger did an excellent in coaching the team and are to be commended.

"THE OPPOSITION"

Be ready always with a gentle, respectful answer for anyone who asks a reason for the hope that is in you.

Oral communication, people, sensible dialogue to learn more than one side of a situation—that's what Forensics is about. And to train students for this, Jesuit High has actively engaged in Forensic competition since 1964, making the Forensics Team the oldest activity on campus.

This year's schedule has sent Varsity members to Davis, San Francisco, Fresno, and Chico to meet students from up and down California, and from Washington, Nevada, and Washington, D.C. The Novice members have criss-crossed the Sacramento area, competing against league schools.

In individual events, this year's leaders are Dan Morrow in Dramatic Interpretation and Programmed Reading, Thomas Tesluk in Humorous Interpretation, Mike Grandinetti in Expository Speaking, and Rich Linstrom in Extemporaneous and Impromptu Speaking. As for Debate, Don Hillock, Tom Burns, Rich Linstrom, and Tom Tesluk form the squad leaders.

Since only one member is a senior, the moderator-coaches, Mr. Kerby and Fr. Prat, S.J., feel that next year's squad promises to have a solid nucleus of experienced speakers.

career exploration club

This year for the first time, Jesuit sponsered a Career Exploration Club. The club is an extension of the Exploring Division of the Boy Scouts. Approximately every two weeks, a representative of a certain profession will come and speak to interested students. Some of the fields represented were; Building Trades, Teaching, Military, Small Business, Investment, and many others. Membership exceeded one quarter of the Student Body. This club proved popular as well as beneficial. We hope to see it continue next year.

Baseball 1974

This year Coach Tom Donato will be heading a predominately Junior squad. In order to compensate for the relative inexperience of the individual players, a very strong team effort will be needed. Returning from last year's 18-6 (4th Place T.O.C.) team are Seniors Rick Michelmore and Dave Stevens; Coach Donato looks to them to provide the experience and leadership necessary to this season's success. The team does not consider this a building year. With the added talent of Tom Lopez, Dave Kancir, Bob Carney and Mark Reedy, the baseballers look toward a '74 shot at the G.E.L. title.

Junior Varsity Baseball

This year's team is well-balanced with key persons filling each position. The pitching staff is strong with Pat Maloney, Bob Ridenhour, and Tom Lukoskie handling the rotation duty. Bob Higgins and Mike Schubert will assume the chores at first base with Joe Potulny backing up play at second. Matt Bouza and Steve Weinheimer, Bill Warner and Tom McSweeny will cover in-field responsibilities. Outfield duties will fall upon the able shoulders of Dave Catricala, Dick Coyle, Bob Fox, and Pete Halvorson. Phil Cantelme and John McCarroll will share catching duties. Bruce McKinnon has proven an able manager. Expectations for a league championship are high and a winning season almost assured.

INTRAMURALS

Intramurals was a fine activity which anyone could participate in during the lunch break. In the fall, the football games were exciting, and usually muddy, with class 4-C emerging as this year's champs. During the winter weeks, basketball competition began. Our sergeant-at-arms, Steve Shurman, Introduced a new phase of intramurals this year, the one-on-one competition. In the spring, softball was the sport in season, and the classes played it with gusto. This year's intramural program was ever-active.

This winter, the Junior class furnished the student body with a Ping-Pong Tournament. Under the supervision of Steve Dalton, and the generous help of Mike Ridenhour and Eric Smith, the Juniors set up seven ping-pong tables in the Little Theater and organized a tournament in which over one hundred students and teachers participated. The contest lasted about three weeks. Rich Jacinto became Jesuit High's 1974 Ping-Pong Champion. The tournament was a tremendously successful activity receiving praise from the students and faculty members.

Father Callanan has completed six years as Principal. In that time he has supervised and inspired the emergence of Jesuit High as an outstanding academic and Christian institution. Father Ed has brought a unique personal gift to his job, a warm, friendly personality. He has been an eloquent spokesman to the Sacramento community, communicating both the strengths and the needs of our school. He has brought together an outstanding assortment of lay teachers who work well together in service of our Student Body. He has demanded standards in both discipline and academics that have presented our school as a bastion of traditional values, seeking new ways to respect the old. Father is a blending of the old and the new, no doubt a result of his consistent and devoted work with the young.

Father Ed has always seen himself as a priest who has been commissioned by God to bring Christ's love to the young. This dimension has always inspired all his judgments and communications. As a result he has had a valuable Christian influence on the Sacramento area.

Father is a very human man, with both the strengths and weaknesses of a man who is not afraid to think with heart. His strong love of people blended with an Irish sense of humor has done much to create Jesuit High into its present reality.

With the passing of this year's Senior class from Jesuit High School, so passes the first decade of its history. It has been a time of growth. During these ten years Jesuit has taken a vital position in the community. We have rightfully earned respect and high esteem from all. The name of Jesuit is instantly recognized and associated with the best.

I am extremely proud to have shared in the special spirit we have here. We are a true community of caring, Christian people with a pride in what we are. It is this fellowship and special spirit that Jesuit gives us to carry fourth and share with humanity, these human qualities that are the true monument of Jesuit.
